Desert Foot 2013 Conference Follow-Up

The 10th Annual Desert Foot Conference was one for the record books, excelling in a number of ways. The energy of the Attendees, Faculty and Exhibitors was undeniable! Considering that during peak registration time — we had a government funding shutdown, the sequester and a government travel ban — its amazing that registration exceeded that of last year. We sincerely thank each and every one of you who attended.

This year's conference attracted a strong showing of serious wound care experts from five countries (USA, Canada, Dominican Republic, India and Norway) and 43 US states. What began as a VA DPM-focused meeting has expanded into a multi-disciplinary conference including MDs, nurses, physical therapists, research PhDs, as well as 46 podiatry residents and 23 students. It's your participation that makes Desert Foot such a rewarding experience for us all. A special congratulations is in order for our Abstract Poster and other contest winners listed below.

WELCOME TO Fabulous SUPERBONES WEST

OCT 18 - 20, 2012

THE ARIA HOTEL
CITY CENTER LAS VEGAS

► Cutting Edge Lecture Program
► Hands-On Podiatry Workshops
► Superbones Hospitality

I would like to personally offer you the opportunity to participate in the exciting Superbones West 2012 conference. This year marks the staging of the third annual Superbones West which takes place in Las Vegas, October 18th to October 20th. Given that last two conferences have been met with such widespread interest and enthusiasm, this year's conference should be the best one yet.

Stan Kalish, DPM
Superbones Conference
Founding Member

Podiatry's Leaders to Take the Podium

The conference's notable venue and its success at placing the nation's top speakers at the podium are just two of the reasons for its ability to attract an extensive and impressive list of some of the nation's top podiatrists with some of the largest practices. Additionally, the Superbones conference committee, consisting of Chairman Stanley Kalish, DPM, and co-chairs, Harold Schoenhaus, DPM, Robert Frykberg, DPM, and Guido LaPorta, DPM, has overseen the development of an exceptional scientific program this year.

Aside from yours truly, speakers will include Drs. Frykberg, Joseph, Schoenhaus, DiDomenico, and many others. Topics at this prestigious conference include foot and ankle trauma, internal and external fixation, Charcot reconstruction, enhanced bone healing, advanced wound care, orthobiologics, diabetic foot infections, tendon repair, AFO's, orthotics, dermatology, practice management, and many more.

I am delighted to be able to offer you this outstanding opportunity to participate at Superbones West and take advantage of extensive exposure to our nation's top podiatric practices that will be represented at this important conference.

The Superbones Conference is attended by practitioners from all over the world and offers networking opportunities beyond expectations.

Follow this link or call 888.802.8410 to register today. I look forward to seeing you there!

Journal of Diabetic Foot Complications

Dedicated to Diabetic Limb Salvage

Vol. 4, Issue 2

Letter from The Editor -

I am very pleased to announce the publication of the latest issue of The Journal of Diabetic Foot Complications. We have provided direct links to the articles below to facilitate easier viewing of our Journal. As you may already know, the JDFC is a free, exclusively online journal with a primary focus on complications, conditions, and management of disorders affecting the diabetic lower extremities.

Published quarterly, our peer reviewed issues contain review and research articles as well as interesting case reports from clinicians around the Globe who share our interest in the diabetic foot and diabetic limb salvage.

Let me personally invite you to become not only a subscriber to the JDFC, but also a contributor. I encourage you to share your experiences in managing patients with diabetic foot complications with the rest of our Global community. As I have learned, we all share common problems with our patients regardless of city, country, or continent. More importantly, we learn from each other's experiences and can apply such knowledge to the betterment of our own patients.

I look forward to hearing your comments about the articles or the Journal in general. Our aim is to continually improve our content based on your comments and concerns. And again, I encourage you to submit your own articles to us at jdfceditors@gmail.com or Editors@jdfc.org

You can reach the Journal of Diabetic Foot Complications on the web at <http://jdfc.org>

Best regards,

See you next time.

DESERT FOOT 2010 was SOLD OUT and a Complete Success from Top to Bottom

We thank all those in attendance, and the Fairmont Princess, for making this the best Desert Foot Conference yet.

The 7th Annual Desert Foot High Risk Diabetic Foot Conference concluded this weekend at the Fairmont Princess Scottsdale. It was three days of fast paced diabetic limb salvage science and clinical wound care technology, originally presented for the VA and now, developed by PRESENT e-Learning Systems into a larger program for the multidisciplinary diabetic limb care community. The conference had over 700 attendees this year, 40% more than last year, including 60 nurses and 40 MDs.

Special thanks to Advanced BioHealing

We wish to extend our appreciation to ABH for its Grand Sponsorship of Desert Foot and its Exclusive Sponsorship of PRESENT Residency
Education for the VA Healthcare System.

Conference Co-Chairmen Robert Frykberg, DPM, MPH and Jeffrey Robbins, DPM, and section Chairs Dane Wukich, MD (Orthopedics) and Cynthia Fleck, RN, MBA (Nursing), put on fascinating programs utilizing a renowned faculty from around the world. An Abstract/Poster competition, sponsored by conference Grand Sponsor Advanced BioHealing, received over 50 submissions. Generous prizes were awarded in both Residents and Non-residents categories.

DESERT FOOT 2010 LECTURE SERIES

Over the course of the next few weeks, we will be offering a series of lectures, viewable for CME, filmed live at the Desert Foot Conference. Of course, you can always check the conference website at desertfoot.org, for the latest conference news.

We'll see you next year at Desert Foot Conference 2011!

...and we hope to see you at these PRESENT Podiatric Conferences as well:

There's still time to register for Superbones East 2011,
as we return to Atlantis for another great Podiatry Conference.

Pre-Register now for PRESENT Podiatric Residency Summit 2011, PRESENT's first podiatry conference designed specifically to bring podiatric residents and the podiatric education community together.

MARKETING AND MANAGEMENT

Providing Online Education for all Podiatric VA Residency Programs

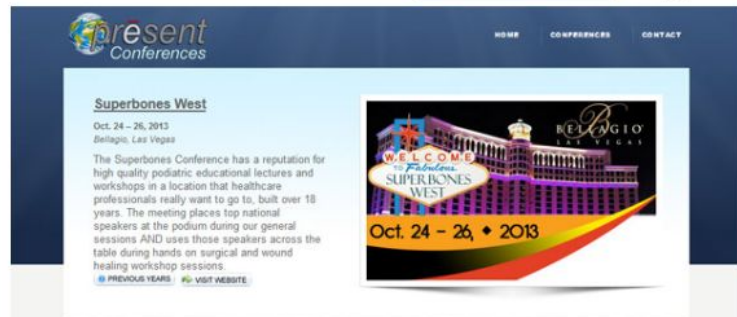

PRESENT e-Learning Systems, a world leader in the field of online medical education, and purveyor of cutting-edge podiatric conferences, announces the launch of their new All-Conference Website - www.PRESENTConferences.com. In response to members' request, PRESENT now has a single website consolidating information on its five annual conferences, including links to upcoming conferences and archives of past-conference agendas, photo albums, faculty lists, exhibitors and contest winners.

PRESENT CEO and Co-Founder, Alan Sherman, DPM, CCMEP, states, "The New All-Conference Website serves as a one-stop easy to use website where past and future attendees alike can learn about our conferences." He adds, "While the individual, standalone conference websites are all still in place, the attendees and registrants can now visit this one site as an originating portal and historical archive of all PRESENT Conferences.
